Subscription Form – Industry Mentorship for Senior Engineering Students

Strathclyde Engineering Scholars Programme is supported by the University of Strathclyde and is funded by the Royal Academy of Engineering

We are keen to work with industry mentors who can share their experiences of progressing from university to becoming a practicing engineer, share their insight on what it is like to work in a certain industry or engineering discipline; and to share their experiences of developing both personal and technical skills required to be successful.

If you have any questions, please let us know by eng-scholars@strath.ac.uk
